Project 1 - Milestone 4

I was satisfied with the final result I got for this project. I hope to add functionality to the free category of password type allowing users to add. Also, I want to make the whole flow of app more fluent and easier to understand. The decrypt key needs to be more complicit and should have a way to help the user to remember. I hope to fix it later. Oh, also I really want to add a colorful marker on the password list (like Gmail), it will be clearer to find the critical level of the password. Furthermore, backing up the project is an essential thing. I will definitely back up my project and important file timely and prepared to react to accident happened.
